SUMMARY

Sanja Zeman is an industry leader in the Occupational Therapy arena, with over 20 years experience as a medicolegal adviser and consultant to business, the legal fraternity, insurance industry, and health care professionals. She is also an inspiring teacher and influential key note speaker.

This professional background, coupled with hands on practice, has allowed Sanja to be recognized as a leading Occupational Therapist in Australia, sought after for analysis, problem solving and mapping ability as applying to management of people and maximization of their function.

She provides a compelling perspective that challenges the traditional thinking surrounding the physical, emotional, sensory, cognitive and social components to true function. She is critical of therapists too often taking for granted what their clients advise as their functional capability. Her modern thinking and best practice ideas bridge the gap between perception and reality to unveil the truth behind best practice Occupational Therapy.
